COVERSIX MODULAR TRAINING FACILITIES

CoverSix offers the ultimate solution to train and prepare warfighters and first responders for the rigors of their missions. CoverSix Training Range Facilities include a variety of training structures and equipment including live-fire shooting ranges, grenade range and observation towers, viewing bunkers, Military Operations in Urban Terrain (MOUT) facilities and skills houses. Engineered to industry leading safety specifications, each of our Range Modules is personalized to meet the exacting needs of the user and applies proven and successfully tested designs.

FEATURES AND AMENITIES

Get all of the features and amenities you desire, combined with a safe, tested modular design that makes installation and set-up easy. Much of it is completed before it leaves our facility, then finished by our service team.

SCALABLE AND FLEXIBLE DESIGN

If your staffing numbers, or the types of qualifications required are subject to change, modules can be added and reconfigured to meet your needs. Need something custom? We do that too.

ON TARGET TRAINING FACILITIES

These training modules are not only scalable and flexible, they're built for strength, with the security of full ballistic containment. Our turnkey service starts during the sale and continues through delivery and beyond.

CUSTOM DESIGNS THAT ALIGN WITH YOUR SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS.

Only with CoverSix can you combine all the engineering behind the industry's best modular training facilities with the virtually identical training capability of a traditional brick and mortar building. From targetry and simulation to custom layouts and amenities, we put the power in your hands—the only things off limits are the unparalleled standards for our strength and safety.
